Explanations of the information that is to be provided in the above fields (not to be included in the stock exchange announcement):

Date on which the terms and conditions of the preferential rights issue were announced: Insert the date on which information about the transaction was made public.

Last day including right: The date of the last trading day on which the shares will be traded including the right to receive the preferential rights.

Ex-date: The date of the first trading day on which the shares will be traded excluding the right to receive the preferential rights. Shareholders who acquire shares on or after this trading day will not have the right to receive the preferential rights.

Record date: The date on which the copy of the shareholder register will be taken. This will be used to identify who is entitled to receive preferential rights. The preferential rights accrue to those shareholders who are registered as shareholders in the shareholder register on the record date. With a normal settlement cycle (i.e. T+2), the record date will be the day that occurs T+1 after the ex-date.

Maximum number of new shares: The maximum number of new shares that can be issued as a result of the preferential rights issue.

Subscription price: Insert the subscription price for the issue.

Ratio subscription rights: Number of preferential rights granted per number of old share(s).

Subscription ratio: Number of new shares per preferential right.

Manager: The manager(s) of the preferential rights issue.

Will the rights be listed – yes/no: State whether the preferential rights will or will not be listed.

ISIN for preferential rights: The ISIN for the preferential rights, only if these are to be admitted to trading on Oslo Børs, Euronext Expand or Euronext Growth.

Date of approval: The date on which the preferential rights issue was/is due to be approved by the competent corporate body.

Other information (optional): Provide further information if required.
