

> Postponement of evolutions to technical messages and beginning/end initialization messages

Euronext informs customers that the evolutions to technical messages and beginning/end initialization messages (broadcast messages) detailed in the info-flash IFCA031126 sent on 26 November 2003 will not be applied this weekend as initially scheduled. The implementation of these evolutions is therefore postponed to a later date, which will be communicated to you in due course.

Euronext apologizes for any inconvenience this may cause.

Kind regards,
