Successful listings on Alternext

Two amounts raised this week the largest since the market's launch

7 June 2007

Alternext, the Euronext market dedicated to small and medium-size companies, this week welcomed two new companies, Vergnet and Homair, whose successful listings raised the largest amounts for any since the market's launch.

Vergnet placed 2.45 million shares for a total of €33.95 million. On the basis of the admission price, its market capitalization stands at €36 million.

Homair placed 6.33 million shares for a total of €2.31 million. On the basis of the admission price, its market capitalization stands at €65 million.

Last week, Demos was listed on Alternext, raising €20.53 million. The company's market capitalization totals €75 million.

Since the beginning of the year Alternext has welcomed 22 new listings, raising a total of €274 million. Today it counts 96 listed companies from all sectors of the economy, with total market capitalization amounting to €5 billion.

Vergnet designs, manufactures, markets and installs innovative equipment for wind-power generation and drinking water supply.

Homair is the French leader for mobile-home holiday rentals.

Demos is France's second-largest private-sector provider of professional training.
