PROJECT: Multi-decimal trading

Multi-decimal trading: second round of tests for participating members in the French marketplace

With regard to the multi-decimal trading tests announced in the info-flash of 28 December 2007, Euronext would like to remind participating members from the French market that the first round of tests on the three French stocks listed in the table below ends today - Friday, 8 February 2008. Any outstanding orders for these stocks on Euronext's External User Acceptance (EUA) platform will be cancelled after trading hours today.

For the second round of tests, the French stocks used during the test period will be quoted to two decimal places as from the morning of Monday, 11 February 2008, and a fixed tick size of €0.01 will be applied. These stocks will be quoted to three decimal places once again as from the morning of Thursday, 14 February 2008, and the fixed tick size of €0.005 will be applied, without any cancelling of orders. The second round of tests will end on Friday, 7 March 2008.
