PROJECT: SINGLE ORDER BOOK

Simulation of Single Order Book launch - List of order books that will be purged on the EUA test platform

In preparation for the implementation of Single Order Book later this year, NYSE Euronext will conduct the first of two launch simulations on its External User Acceptance (EUA) test platform at the end of July. Clients are therefore informed that an order book purge on the EUA test platform will be carried out on Wednesday, 30 July 2008 for the attached list of multi-listed securities. This list also contains details of the order books that will be prohibited and then closed for trading.

The order book purge on the EUA test platform will take place on the night of 29 July during the NSC post-trading session following a manual intervention by Cash Market Operations. The usual notification messages (SLE 138) will be sent during the night to those members concerned.

The order books associated with markets other than the Market of Reference will be prohibited from trading as from Wednesday, 30 July 2008 until their definitive removal from the EUA test platform on Friday, 8 August 2008 following the ESES simulation (weekend of 2-3 August 2008).

NYSE Euronext clients are invited to resend their orders on the EUA test platform during the pre-opening phase in the Market of Reference order book on the morning of Wednesday, 30 July as from 08.15 CET.

We would like to remind clients that the resending of orders will only be possible for those members who are authorised to trade in the Market of Reference.

Please be advised that revised Single Order Book business specifications are now available covering the scope and principles, impact analysis, implementation plan and launch strategy for Single Order Book. You will find a copy of "Single Order Book Business Specifications document, version 2.1" on the Euronext website at the following location:
