PROJECT: Universal Trading Platform – Market Data Feed

Updated specifications and new set of canned data for Universal Trading Platform Market Data Feed

NYSE Euronext would like to inform clients that updated specification documentation pertaining to the Universal Trading Platform Market Data Feed for MMBA and SFTI circuits is now available.

Please note the referential data evolution on page 24 of the “UTPMDF Equities Feed Specifications – Market Information Appendix”, v1.4 document which is aimed at facilitating trading of a subdivision of an official currency.

All message structures in the External User Acceptance (EUA) test environment and in Pre-Production are as per these new specifications.

A new set of canned data is also now available on the Euronext website. Please see below for further details of all updated documentation available:

New and updated Protocol Universal Trading Platform-MD (Market Data) documentation:
