PROJECT: Universal Trading Platform

Common Customer Gateway (CCG) for legacy messaging protocols

NYSE Euronext is pleased to inform clients that the MMTP and Euronext FIX protocols, available for testing on the External User Acceptance environment since January 2009, will be available to trade in production via the Common Customer Gateway, upon request, as from 30 March 2009.

Availability of legacy protocol testing documentation

NYSE Euronext would like to remind clients that they are required to perform conformance testing to be able to trade in production via legacy protocols on the Common Customer Gateway:

- ➔ The relevant customer testing guides for using the MMTP and the Euronext FIX protocols are now available:
 - “Member Access using MMTP protocol via a Common Customer Gateway (CCG), NYSE Euronext Testing Guide”, March 2009 – v 1.0
 - “Member Access using Euronext FIX protocol via a Common Customer Gateway (CCG), NYSE Euronext Testing Guide”, March 2009 – v 1.0

These documents are available on the Euronext website at the following location:

www.euronext.com/cashmembers > Market/IT documentation > Technical NYSE Euronext customers are invited to contact the Universal Trading Platform Support Desk to arrange their conformance testing.

Clients are reminded that they will need to request connection details by completing the attached configuration form and returning it to ccc@euronext.com (copy utp@nyx.com).

Please note that if members are connected to NYSE Euronext through an Application Service Provider (ASP), the connection details will be requested by the ASP. The configuration form as well as the notification for use of ASP services will be returned to NYSE Euronext by the ASP. Those members are therefore invited to contact their ASP to complete the relevant documentation.

High Availability specifications

NYSE Euronext is pleased to inform members that the specifications for the Common Customer Gateway (CCG) High Availability for legacy protocols (“CCG High Availability Technical Specifications: Legacy protocols (MMTP and Euronext FIX)” March 2009 – V 1.0) are now available on the Euronext website at the following location:

Note:

- The High Availability documentation for the UTP-Direct protocol is included in the UTP-Direct protocol specifications ("Universal Trading Platform for Equities UTP-D Message Specifications" v1.8), also available on the Euronext website.
- The High Availability documentation for the FIX 4.2 protocol will be included in the FIX 4.2 specifications from version 2.1.

High Availability (HA) testing for members

To enable members to test, NYSE Euronext will perform High Availability (HA) tests every Friday at 16.00 CET. The process is as follows:

1. Contact the Universal Trading Platform Support Desk to announce that you will perform HA tests
2. When you have finished testing, contact the UTP Support Desk to validate the completion criteria.
