

01 What services does Euronext Funds360 offer?

Euronext Funds 360 has four main product offerings:

- I. Data solutions: We provide data feeds and API access to static and dynamic data for multiple instrument types, including funds, equities, ETFs and currency rates.
- II. Data Management: We help financial institutions to organize, centralize, store and disseminate data for any kind of instrument.
- III. Web solutions: We provide IFA's, fund selectors and asset allocators with dynamic tools to help them screen our comprehensive fund database to rank and compare funds. These services are also available as white label solutions to help clients create dynamic web content.
- IV. Media solutions: We help asset managers to promote their funds and expertise to a large and highly targeted audience of financial professionals through our web sites Funds Watch and Euronext Funds360, as well as through other partner sites.

02 What types of client can benefit from Euronext Funds360 services?

Most types of financial institutions and participants can benefit from our wide range of solutions. All companies for whom data quality and ease of technical data integration are important, such as asset managers, IFA's, banks (buy and sell side), insurance companies and Financial Websites will find our solutions indispensable.

03 What makes Euronext Funds360 different from other companies?

Our clients experience a high level of satisfaction with our solutions, due to a number of factors:

Our team members are experts who share a common passion for their work and a real ambition to produce quality data combined with a high level of client service.

In addition to our strong client focus, our continuous investment in modern technologies allows us to stand out from our competitors. Our API is well documented and easy to integrate and we constantly improve our infrastructure and our processes to remain agile and flexible. This approach allows us to deliver customized solutions to our clients.

During the onboarding process, we take the time to understand our clients' requirements allowing us to deliver exactly what they need. This ensures a much smoother data integration process for our clients as well as lower costs.

Last but not least, we focus on offering our clients a superior service throughout the year. Our users need to have confidence in the data and the reassurance that any queries will be promptly answered. Our client hotline addresses the vast majority of questions and data requests within 24 hours, often significantly less.

04 How does Euronext Funds360 source its data?

Euronext Funds360 has established direct data connections with most fund administrators, asset managers and product issuers. This solid data network allows us to deliver top quality data in real time to our clients. As our data team is in permanent contact with all the major asset managers, we are able to react quickly when an asset manager launches a new product or when a question arises.

05 How does Euronext Funds360 ensure that the quality of its data is consistently high?

Our systems are programmed to run multiple data checks every day and all incoming data is audited in real-time. Our team of seasoned data professionals continually monitors the data for possible inconsistencies, and verifies directly with the appropriate asset managers or their agents where necessary.

06 How does the acquisition of OPCVM360 / Euronext Funds360 fit with Euronext's strategic plan and how does it benefit Euronext Funds 360 clients?

A key pillar of Euronext's strategic plan is the investment in further developing its data business. The combination of Euronext and Euronext Funds360 is a natural fit as it brings Euronext an extensive funds database as well as market-leading technology capabilities to complement its existing data services.

The combination of Euronext Funds360 data with the many other data sets offered by Euronext on equities, bonds and structured products has greatly enhanced the capacity of Euronext Funds360 to meet the needs of clients who need access to a large range of instruments. Overall Euronext has brought tremendous resources and expertise to the Euronext Funds360 team, giving us the strong foundations to become the provider of choice for funds data solutions.
