SDG Goal #5

Achieve gender equality

“Gender equality is not only a fundamental human right, but a necessary foundation for a peaceful, prosperous and sustainable world”

United Nations Sustainable Development Goal #5 set a 2030 deadline for the achievement of gender equality and the empowerment of all women and girls.

5 GENDER EQUALITY

The aim of gender equality in the workplace is to achieve equal opportunities and outcomes for women and men. This will be achieved when people are able to access and enjoy equal rewards, resources and opportunities regardless of gender. This will require:

- Equal pay for work of equal or comparable value
- Removal of barriers to the full and equal participation of women in the workforce
- Access to all occupations and industries, including leadership roles, regardless of gender and elimination of discrimination on the basis of gender, particularly in relation to family and caring responsibilities.

Research has shown a strong link between diversity and a company financial performance. Indeed, several pieces of research have demonstrated that companies that have better gender diversity and inclusion achieve superior financial results.
