CA4U Testing Window Reminder

To the attention of:	Issuers, Service Providers, Intermediaries, Issuer agents
Priority:	High
Topic:	CA4U Testing Window Reminder and Go-Live Preparation

Dear Valued Client,

We would like to remind you that the CA4U testing activities are currently underway in preparation for Go-Live on 16 November.

We urge you to participate in the testing phase, execute the planned test scenarios, and attend the scheduled test calls between now and the end of September. This is essential to ensure service continuity and to minimise the risk of potential difficulties or disruptions when the solution goes live.

Please note that during the month of October, the test environment will be primarily dedicated to activities related to the upcoming SWIFT release, which will limit availability for additional CA4U testing.

Consequently, to ensure a smooth transition to production, we strongly recommend that all required testing be completed within the current testing window.

Should you require any additional support, please contact Test-CA4U-MIL@euronext.com. This will help us process and address your request more efficiently.

Thank you for your cooperation and continued support.

Kind regards,

Euronext Securities
