Details of each available alert:

- Last price at a specific time.
- Alert on opening/closing price.
- Price exceeds limit/is under limit [Market time]. The alert occurs immediately when the last price is higher or equal (exceeds)/is lower or equal (is under) to the limit preset.
- Price variation percentage exceeds limit high/is under limit low [High Price/Low Price]. This alert occurs when the price change of the day (increase or decrease) is higher or equal to the limit preset.
- Traded share amount is above limit [Volume]. This alert occurs when the volume of the day is greater or equal to the limit you have preset.
- Share price is halted. You receive an alert when your stock is halted.
- Index/stock variation [% Chg from Index]. This alert occurs when the variation of your stock for the day (increase or decrease) is higher than or equal to the gap you preset in percentage terms between the change of your stock and the change of your national index (CAC 40® for a French company). For example, if you entered 1%, this means that if the CAC40 Index rises by 1% and your stock by 2%, you expect an alert because the gap between your stock and the index is at least 1%.
- 3 months average volume [% Chg 3mo Volume]. You receive an alert when the volume of the day is greater than or equal to the 3-month average volume on your stock (increase or decrease). For example, if you entered 3%, this means that if your 3-month average volume is 1000, you expect an alert if the volume is equal to or more than 1030 (1000 + 3%).
- Brokers Market Share in percentage or volume [Broker % Mkt/Broker Volume]. You receive an alert when the percentage or the volume of the previous day is greater or equal to the percentage or volume preset.

How does it work?

- Each alert is disseminated with a timestamp (date + time).
- Each alert provides you with your last price, trading session variations and volume traded (first, high, low, last variation, volume since the beginning of the trading session).

There is no additional charge for this service.
