Amundi ETF announces the listing of two new ETFs on NYSE Euronext in Paris

Paris, 5th October 2010 – Amundi ETF is pursuing its development by listing two new ETFs on NYSE Euronext in Paris.

This new listing comprises two ETFs with the lowest TER (Total Expense Ratio) on the market:*

- An ETF providing investors with exposure to around 20 stocks in the European energy sector through a single transaction. This product replicates the MSCI Europe Energy[®] index as closely as possible whether the trend is rising or falling.

The Amundi ETF product range now provides investors with exposure to the main MSCI sectors in Europe.

- An ETF replicating as closely as possible the EuroMTS AAA Government[®] index whether the trend is rising or falling. Revised on a monthly basis, this index is composed of debt securities issued by the euro zone member states with at least three ratings equivalent to “AAA” (or an equivalent rating to S&P, Moody's and Fitch).

Following the recent launch of an ETF tracking the ex AAA GOVT BOND EuroMTS[®] index, this product completes the Amundi ETF fixed income product range. Investors now have access to simple tools for their strategic asset allocation whatever their views on the outlook for euro zone bond markets.

Valérie Baudson, Managing Director of Amundi ETF comments: “We remain determined to continue developing our product range at competitive prices. This launch coincides with Amundi ETF reaching the €5 billion mark in AUM, demonstrating the growing confidence of investors in our business model.”

Thierry Ancona, Head of Client Global Coverage, Executive Vice President, CA Cheuvreux, adds: “The launch of these two new ETFs confirms the ambition of the Crédit Agricole group to increase its presence in an ETF market experiencing strong growth. The position of CA Cheuvreux on NYSE Euronext in Paris alongside international institutional investors is an additional asset that contributes to our strategy.”

The Amundi ETF product range is available on NYSE Euronext Paris, Borsa Italiana, Deutsche Börse and SIX Swiss Exchange and is distributed by dedicated sales teams at Amundi and CA Cheuvreux.

Further information about Amundi ETF can be found on the amundiETF.com website.
