

EURONEXT TECH 40 ISSUERS OUTPERFORM

+25% performance of the Tech 40 label this year

Amsterdam, Brussels, Lisbon and Paris – 20 April 2017 – Euronext is announcing today the new composition of its « Tech 40 » label, which recognises 40 innovative European small and mid-cap companies listed on its markets. This year, 12 new companies are entering in the new label composition, selected by a group of independent European experts, based on capital markets, economic and financial performance criteria. The companies are also added to the eponymous index, composed exclusively of the labelled « Tech 40 » stocks.

Euronext launched the « Tech 40 » label two years ago to increase the exposure of promising tech companies that are listed on its markets. The index for these shares rose by +25% year on year.¹ The 40 labelled companies have a combined revenue of €10 billion, 45 000 employees and total market capitalisation of €14,5 billion.²

The « Tech 40 » initiative is among one of the several programs developed by EnterNext, the Euronext subsidiary dedicated to the promotion of listed small and mid-cap tech companies. EnterNext assists tech companies in their listings and help raise their profile on the financial markets. Its initiatives include: the TechShare programme which aims to help unlisted tech companies' executives to better understand the role and operations of the financial markets; a partnership with Morningstar to strengthen investors' knowledge and financial analysis of tech stocks; and the launch of The Tech Corner, a web platform dedicated to the market financing of the tech sector at <https://tech.euronext.com/en>

Please find the members of the « Tech 40 » label listed below (the 12 new members are marked in green).

Please equally find the presentation of each « Tech 40 » company on the The Tech Corner website: <https://tech.euronext.com/en/our-tech-companies/all-tech-40-companies>
